To,
Whom it May Concern,
JPMorgan Chase & Co. ,
Bengaluru, Karnataka, India

Subject: Cover Letter for the Application of Data Science & Strategic Analytics

It is great opportunity of mine to receive notification regarding job opportunity, for the position of Data Science & Strategic Analytics at JPMorgan Chase & Co. , and I am sending you my resume for your considerations.

I have completed my graduations from Neotia Institute of Technology Management and Science under the Maulana Abul Kalam Azad University of Technology (formerly West Bengal University of Technology, WBUT) majoring in Electrical and Electronics Engineering.

I'm currently working at Reliance Industries as a Data Analyst since October 2016, and have 6+ years of experience in Python, Machine Learning, SQL, Tableau, Spark with Python (PySpark), Hive, and Deep Learning.

I take advantage of the Data Science and Analyst Team in Reliance Industries, wherein close guidance, I devise Rule-Based Algorithms together with Analytic-Driven, Data-Wrangling Methodologies which facilitate my responsibilities for building Business Logics which is not only restricted to saving operational costs, improving speed and accuracy of the system and enhancing customer-experience quality.

Along with my professional expertise, I have completed my masters in Power Electronics and Electrical Drives from Indian Institute of Technology (IIT-ISM), Dhanbad, which gave me a strong foothold to devise optimized solutions, and carry out tasks assigned to me.

My resume indicates that I'm a hardworking, goal-oriented person who is well equipped to work in a group and/or individually. I'm responsible enough and can complete an assigned task on time. I thus would like you to consider my resume along with it.

I am motivated to learn new skills, and it is one of my lifelong dream to be able to apply my skills and knowledge into financial services - a place where numbers matters!

With the aforesaid qualities and expertise of mine, I am confident that I can offer you the skills that you are seeking. I would like to consider myself for a personal interview at your convenience.

Your kind and a valuable reply are highly appreciated.

Wish the letter reaches you in Good Health.

Regards,
Debmalya Pramanik
